Wandlyn Way #4

Quill & Quire

A Quarter Scale Kit
©SGH Baillargeon 2017

Newil Hessenpfefer began collecting books when he was an apprentice wizard and bookbinder in Amsterdam. He always planned to open his own book shop and Wandlyn Way offered the perfect location. No competition. Grimoires, histories, journals, encyclopaedias and fiction fill the shelves in the Quill & Quire. Some of the books are magical and only appear during a full moon or when they feel like it. The more dangerous ones are kept under lock and key in a big barred bookcase. Newil has a stock pile of unread and out of date books in storage under the stairs and they seem to be spreading to his apartment in the attic. He keeps hoping his own books will be gain popularity but so far no one seems interested in publishing one.

The basic kit could be any kind of shop or tearoom or pub. It has 3 floors and includes interior stairs, railings, printed floors, interior and exterior trim, windows and doors, shingles, hanging lanterns and window seats.

Please note the 2nd floor wall & bookcases are not included in the basic kit.

The base has a carve cobblestone walk to match the other shops in the series and is 6" deep X 6" wide.

The shop itself is 4.5" deep and 8" high.
